A top-down view of several hands of different skin tones stacked together in a circle, symbolizing unity and collaboration. The hands are positioned in a way that they overlap, with fingers pointing towards the center. The background shows parts of colorful, patterned clothing, including a green and white patterned top and a vibrant, multi-colored geometric patterned top. The overall scene is brightly lit, emphasizing the textures of the skin and the patterns of the fabric.

Reflections

Interventions that have not progressed well are:

- Establishing and supporting regional drug action committees,
- Municipalities crafting MOUs with CBOS, FBOs, and members of the community that are engaged in shaping local responses
- Developing protocol for response through an Integrated Service Delivery model.
